

GROUP 1

Jimmy says

- H.
- he was leaving it for Brody
 - it was too big
 - It was unnecessary to kill it
 - Would be disrespectful
 - Saving it for someone who needed it at a later time

Attitudes toward prey

- Dreams indicate the approval to kill the animal
- Attempting to maintain a balanced relationship

Agriculturists take as much as they can instead of as much as they need.

Agree with Brody's analysis

L. Does Brody believe that Anaviapik & Jimmy are human beings...

Anaviapik (pg 120)

- was modern
- Brody considered him a contemporary
- he was changing along with the modern world

- ~~orderly and organized~~
- Seemed older though similar age as Brody
- knew tuland
- felt that ancestors knowledge had been passed down through him, making him seem older
- Brody sees Jimmy as living in modern times but acting & think in an older fashion.

Who is more modern? (pg 119)

- Anaviapik was more modern b/c his life was more effected by modern changes
- lived like a "modern" man and use modern technologies
- vs -
- Jimmy did things the "old" way. Had a more traditional way of living.

M. Young white men selling cheap liquor, they think they are helping the people by selling them the alcohol so they can have a good time since they have nothing else left.

They are exploiting them, the society might be close to ending but the people do not need any help destroying their way of life. They are losing important parts of their way of life just so they can drink alcohol.

Thomas - hopes that one day everyone will stop drinking and then they will be able to get the boot leggers to leave and go back to their traditional way of life.

~~Not done~~

Fatalists:

N.

- hunter gatherers will disappear
- they will come into conflict with modern societies
- they can't coexist with modern societies; they will suffer
 - alcoholism, poverty, wage labor
- their land is needed by the expanding populations of the rest of the world

We agree with Brody:

- the "romantic" qualities of hunter-gatherers aren't necessarily completely false
- Brody's view is in between fatalist & romantic
- He believes indigenous people will change, but in their own way, on their own terms
 - they aren't perfect & unchanging, but they don't need to be fully incorporated into modern, western society & culture
 - cultures inevitably change, but it doesn't have to be a negative & "unnatural" thing
