CALIFORNIA

- Elaine Hesser Giuliano '83 - Features Editor, Carmel Pine Cone Newspaper (Carmel-By-The-Sea, CA)

Organization: I am the features editor for The Carmel Pine Cone newspaper. Depending on the week, we might research and write about any number of subjects, from food deserts to puppies and kittens. I also edit our quarterly magazine, "Healthy Lifestyles," write most of its content, and choose images for it. I do a combination of telecommuting and working in the office, which is about a 40-minute drive away.

Externship: The extern has a lot of choices. We'll probably cover ethics and the 1st amendment (which I'm still learning about), what feature writing is/entails, what makes good writing, AP Style, photojournalism, and working with public relations . . . I work for a guy who won two Emmys as a television journalist and who's lived a fascinating life. He loves to teach and share. Also, I live in a great place: It's the home of Steinbeck and Cannery Row, and we can visit the Steinbeck Center, Cannery Row, the Monterey Bay Aquarium . . . whatever strikes her fancy. There are only two requirements: Read several issues of The Pine Cone before you get here. Best idea is go to 2015 in Feb. and read the Centennial edition. Be open to a relatively conservative point of view.

- Ashley Orr '10 - Public Health Analyst, Chester County Health Department (West Chester, PA)

Organization: Chester County Health Department (CCHD) is located in Southeastern PA, serving over 500,000 residents. The mission of the Chester County Health Department is to provide personal and environmental health services to residents and visitors so that they may grow, live and work in healthy and safe communities. Chester County is consistently ranked one of the healthiest counties in Pennsylvania by the County Health Rankings & Roadmaps, a Robert Wood Johnson Foundation program. In my role as the public health analyst at CCHD, I am responsible for collecting, managing, reporting, and sharing the department's public health data. CCHD is very data-driven, using data to inform all decisions. I work with staff, program managers, and directors to identify and fulfill their data requirements, using both primary and secondary data sources, related to program planning, monitoring, and evaluation. I am responsible for presenting data in a clear, accurate, and visually appealing way to CCHD staff, our community partners, and the public. I am also the coordinator for RoadMAPP to Health, Chester County's community-driven, collaborative effort to assess the health of our community, identify the health priorities, and develop a Community Health Improvement Plan (CHIP) to address them. The ultimate goal of RoadMAPP to Health is to better serve the people of Chester County by collaborating with organizations that take action, make an impact, and work to improve health and quality of life throughout the county. CCHD is one of the critical partners in this community initiative and has made a commitment to continue to be the coordinating agency for the partnership; additional partners include hospitals, clinics, community organizations, funders, and county departments. CCHD is also pursuing Public Health Accreditation, a voluntary national accreditation for health departments at the tribal, local, and state levels. I am coordinating this effort in our department, facilitating work groups to identify, collect, create, and modify the required documents to submit to the Public Health Accreditation Board. The Public Health Accreditation Board (PHAB) is a nonprofit organization dedicated to improving and protecting the health of the public by advancing the quality and performance of Tribal, state, local, and territorial public health departments.

Externship: The extern will have the opportunity to learn about the different aspects of public health, including administration, personal health services, environmental health services, and community health. I will arrange meetings and experiences with other CCHD staff to give them exposure to the wide array of public health services that are provided by a local health department. They will learn about the RoadMAPP to Health initiative and have the opportunity to participate in RoadMAPP meetings and meet community partners involved in the initiative. Through participation in the accreditation workgroups, the extern will learn about the accreditation process and gain an understanding of the level of performance that is expected from an exceptional public health department. The extern will also have the opportunity to contribute to the department by completing a public health project related to RoadMAPP to Health or Accreditation activities, which will be shared with relevant staff and partners.
